CENTOPASSI

Centopassi is the winemaking entity of the co-operatives that, under the brand Libera Terra, cultivate the lands seized from the mafia in Sicily.

Passion, commitment, and skill drive the all-organic management of the vineyards, entirely located in the region of Upper Belice Corleonese and particularly suited for the production of high-quality wine.

Open and unpolluted scenarios, with calcareous peaks rising up on a plateau at a very high mean altitude, make this Mediterranean corner an ideal venue to grow grapes.

While in the vineyards the yields are always far below the maximum limits allowed by the rules, in the cellar the focus is entirely on full respect of the integrity of the fruits and on their ability to express their lands of origin.
